Utah Object Rape Definition

In Utah, State Code §76-5-402.2 is the governing definition for those charged with this crime. The law states – if a person causes the penetration of the anal or genital openings (or other part of the human body) of another person, aged 14 years or older, without the victim's consent, with any foreign object, instrument, device or substance and with the intent to cause physical or emotional pain and/or with the intentions to achieve sexual arousal or gratification of any person, they have committed a first degree felony offense which is punishable by imprisonment.

Penalties for Rape with Foreign Objects

The penalties for object rape vary depending upon whether the defendant has been convicted of a previous sexual offense of a grievous nature, if the accused has caused serious bodily injury during the commission of the crime, and whether the defendant is under 18 years of age. Also, the courts may consider whether force, threat, or fear was used during a sexual penetration by foreign object trial. If found guilty of object rape, the accused may face a minimum of five years imprisonment, and up to 15 years to life in prison if previously convicted of a grievous sexual assault crime.
